

Law Enforcement Services is a program of study within the Law, Public Safety, Corrections and Security Career Cluster. A Career Cluster is a grouping of occupations and broad industries based on commonalities. There are 16 Career Clusters.

Career clusters link what students learn in school with the knowledge and skills they need for success in college and careers. The Law, Public Safety, Corrections and Security Career Cluster helps prepare students for careers in planning, managing, and providing legal, public safety, protective services and homeland security, including professional and technical support services.

There are five programs of study in this cluster:

- Correction Services
- Emergency and Fire Management Services
- Law Enforcement Services
- Legal Services
- Security and Protective Services

Employment Outlook

A Police Officer is an example of a career in this program of study. The number of jobs for police officers is expected to grow at an average rate through the year 2014. Police officers keep order in their communities and make sure that people follow laws. People are more security conscious than in the past, and they are concerned about drug-related crimes. Thus, people are more willing to pay for a larger police force (Career Information System, 2007). Nationally, police officers can earn between $26,910 and more than $68,880 (Occupational Outlook Handbook, 2006-2007).

Using this brochure

Inside you will find a suggested program of study that has lots of helpful information. The model is an example of the types of courses and extended learning experiences that are important for the Law Enforcement Services Program of Study. Use this model to plan your course schedule, educational experiences, and career choices.

At the top of the model, you will find career goals with the corresponding O*NET code. The O*NET code is an official classification of jobs and can be used to locate career-related information. Your teacher, counselor, or media center should be able to help you locate further information.

The upper left side of the model highlights the core courses and career-related electives in high school that will help prepare you for your career goal. This model is based upon the Recommended High School Graduation Plan and can easily be adapted for the Distinguished Achievement High School Graduation Plan.

The upper right side of the model highlights examples of extended learning experiences that can enhance your knowledge and skills for your career goal. You will find examples of curricular activities, such as participation in Career and Technical Student Organizations like SkillsUSA, career learning experiences, service learning activities, and extracurricular activities.

The lower left side of the model indicates industry licensures/certifications and on-the-job training experiences that may be available while still in high school. This section also highlights the various levels of postsecondary education and examples of career options available to you once you have completed that level of education and training.

The lower right side of the model contains examples of professional associations available for public safety professionals. Many organizations allow preprofessional membership while enrolled in a postsecondary program. Most organizations have websites which can be easily located by entering the organization name in available search engines.

Thinking about a career in Law Enforcement?

This program of study may be for you! In Law Enforcement Services duties range from controlling traffic to investigating crimes. They maintain order, enforce laws, issue traffic tickets, and investigate accidents (Career Information System, 2007). Look inside to see the suggested coursework and learning opportunities that will prepare you for an exciting and rewarding career.